Scope and Contents

This collection contains correspondence, press releases, news clippings, reports, and other documents collected and received by Frank O'Bannon and his staff during his campaign for governor and later as Evan Bayh's running mate in the 1988 Indiana gubernatorial election. The bulk of the collection consists of clippings from newspapers from around the state of Indiana and Louisville, Kentucky, with many supplied by Indiana Newsclip of Indianapolis. Clippings were collected regarding O'Bannon and Bayh, fellow Democrat Stephen Daily, and Republican candidate John Mutz and his running mate, Stephen Goldsmith. Clippings concerning Indiana's General Assembly, Indiana political issues, and the 1988 presidential race were gathered as well. The collection also contains documents regarding O'Bannon's biographical and legislative history; copies of some of his speeches and campaign press releases; names and addresses of various media outlets in Indiana; a January 6, 1988 letter O'Bannon received from Sen. Vance Hartke that included a photograph of Hartke, O'Bannon and Jack Rumbach taken at the 1961 I.D.E.A. convention at French Lick, Indiana; a letter from Fort Wayne Mayor Winfield Moses that included a reprinted copy of the Fortune magazine article "A Rust Belt City Takes On a Shine"; a copy of an October 16, 1987 letter sent to George Foundos by Illinois Lieutenant Governor George H. Ryan regarding the revitalization of the Port of Chicago; and an undated photograph of Evan Bayh's 1988 gubernatorial campaign manager, Joe Hogsett.
